Lynden Christian School
Lynden, Washington

Foreword

Time—God's Gift, Man's Responsibility—The theme for our 1968 Excelsior relates to the words of Solomon in Ecclesiastes 3:1 "For everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven." The amount of time we devote to any given purpose depends on the importance of that purpose in our lives. These differing amounts of time are symbolized on our cover and division pages by various size picture and copy blocks.

For a Christian there is no purpose apart from God's will for man. The goal of the Excelsior staff has been to give you a book of memories representative of your school year—memories of how you used your time; memories of how you were instructed, counseled, and guided that, regardless of the activity, time is God's gift and man's responsibility to use for His glory; memories that in the years to come will give you an even greater appreciation for your time of Christian education—your time of learning that "for everything there is a season and a time for every purpose under heaven."

To You

Miss Haverhals . . .

Dedication

Because of your faithful service at Lynden Christian High, we, the Annual Staff are proud and happy to dedicate this 1968 Excelsior to you, Miss Haverhals.

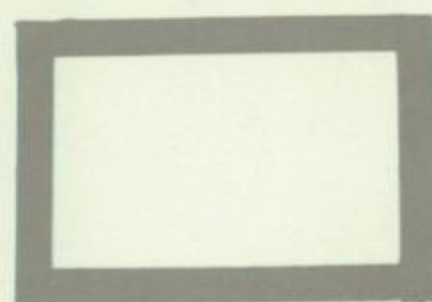

As a teacher of Latin and Bookkeeping you have also willingly given of your time as advisor of the Drill Team and Pep Club. Many students will long remember your enthusiastic teaching and your Christian conviction both in the classroom and as a leader in the school.

It is indeed our greatest hope that you will continue to serve us for many years and that you will continue to receive God's richest blessings in your future work.

ADMINISTRATION

Wise planning, prayerful consideration, and much dedication from parents, board members, administration, and teachers is needed to insure the time spent in school is for a God-glorifying purpose.

Superintendent

Mr. Ben Boxum

Time--God's Gift, Man's Responsibility

In the beginning, God created the heaven and the earth, Gen. 1:1. There is the record of when time began. God gave it, "in the beginning" along with all His creation and He declared it to be good.

God is not subject to this gift. God is eternal--from age to age the same. A thousand years to God is as one day and one day as a thousand years. By saying this, the Bible teaches that God is eternal, infinite, not subject to time.

You and I are creatures of time. We put clocks on our walls and strap watches to our wrists, print calendars and schedules, all to tell us what time it is.

After making time, and placing man in it, God tells us to use it. The time I have given you, God instructs us, use to subdue the earth. Indeed, time is God's gift and it is our responsibility.

Eccl. 3:1 teaches us that . . . "to every thing there is a season and a time to every purpose under heaven. A time to be born and a time to die . . ."

How much time do you have? Only God the giver of it knows this. Maybe "three-score years and ten or even fourscore years." But our time will end. We can't add one minute to our time, we can't speed it up, or slow it down, or recapture even a second of it once it is past. Every tick of the clock records another second of time gone forever.

But someday time will end for each of us. There is a time to be born (in time) and a time to die and with death "our time" is up.

Just as your high school days are over, so everything you do has a time limit placed upon it. What you do with God's gift of time will determine how you will spend eternity.

One thing you must do, my senior friend, while there is still time is to make sure that the Christ in whose name this school is founded, is your personal Savior. The time for salvation is today--II Cor. 6:2, "Behold, now is the accepted time; behold now is the day of salvation."

When time ends, eternity begins. Look well to your God-given responsibility today.

Sincerely,
Ben H. Boxum, Supt.

School Board

Dear Graduates:

"To everything there is a season and a time to every purpose under heaven." We are again reminded of this text, which you have adopted for this year's annual. There is a time to start school and a time to graduate. You have now finished a season of schooling, a purpose of life accomplished. Yet, this is only one of the purposes. Most of you have already made plans and decisions for the future. Many of you are thinking quite a bit about those plans.

That reminds me of the words of Daniel Webster: "The most important thought I ever had was that of my individual responsibility to God." This is a thought which also should be the most important in your lives. And as you work on your future plans, consider them not only intelligently, but above all prayerfully. Yet you will find that there are things which you desire deeply, but do not come about. You try to fathom God's Providence and wonder why. He knows however what is best, and this is so well said in an old Irish proverb: "If God shuts one door, He opens another." Look for that open door.

"Ye Shall Have a Song."

Our 64 voice acappella choir certainly had a song during the 67-68 school year and it was heard. Their first performance was at the Reformation Day Service. They next joined the local church choirs in their annual Thanksgiving Concert. Nearly a month later the Music and Speech departments joined in a Christmas Concert. The next few months rehearsal time was spent in preparation to compete in the annual Pacific Northwest Musicale. The effort put forth by each member was rewarded when the choir received a number one rating. Later in the spring it had the opportunity of exchanging concerts with West Vancouver Secondary School and also had the privilege of singing in the Queen Elizabeth Theatre. The choir wound up with their Spring Concert. It is the choir's prayer that the testimony given in song may have been a blessing to all who heard and that above all it may have glorified our God.

Band

Director: Mr. Anderson.

From the rain drenched football field, to the concert hall in Nampa, Idaho, the L.C.H.S. band has played on. The season began with a concert in the fall and the annual Christmas Concert in December. As the year progressed, the members of the band realized that band isn't such an easy course after all. It takes a lot of practice, and like most subjects a lot of work. But the satisfaction came when a one rating was received at the annual Spring Musicales. Under the capable leadership of their director, Mr. Anderson, the band has been quite a success this past year. From the entire band, a smaller group was chosen as a Pep Band to perform at Pep rallies, and at home games in football and basketball. The band has also played in Chapel, and for the Spring program. A trip to Frazer Valley High School, and a Spring Concert were scheduled.

Excelsior Staff

A lot of time and work goes into the making of a good annual, and this is something that the annual staff began to realize more and more as time went on. After attending a workshop at the University of Washington, they began the work of collecting a year into a book. The theme was selected, and slowly but surely it began to be carried out in pictures, stories, and illustrations. The days of work, the nights of fun, the routine of classes, and the memorable moments all were taken in and put into this annual to treasure and remember in years to come. The write ups, the special assignments, the running and hurrying to meet the deadlines, the work for just the right pictures; all of these are what go into this annual, and the end product is something that we would like to feel proud of. We hope that we have used our time wisely, and in bringing this annual to you, we hope that you also will think that we have used God's gift wisely.

Late nights of work, meeting deadlines, last minute stapling on Friday afternoons; these all characterize the ingredients of a school paper. The Hi-Lite is edited twice a month by the journalism class. Through this publication the students of Lynden Christian are informed of the latest developments in every area of interest - sports, the latest trends and fashions, and social events. All the efforts of the staff are aimed toward receiving a high rating from the National Scholastic Press Association.

Chapel

An important part of every student's week was spent in chapel, where he was drawn closer to his God. One period was set aside every Tuesday and Friday of the school year for this purpose. Chapel was made especially enriching by the variety of messages heard, both from the faculty and from outside speakers. Students, too, shared their talents by leading the song services, providing special numbers, playing organ and piano, and expressing some of their thoughts through speaking. Through the chapel services every member of the student body was instructed to use his time for God's glory.

A New School Year Begins

With An Enjoyable Time At The Mixer

The purpose of the Mixer is to greet old students and teachers, welcome new ones, and give everyone a good time. This was certainly accomplished at the Mixer this year.

After everyone had been completely mixed, and the spirit of the night had been set by the usual beginning games, the main event, Freshmen Initiation, took place. Back to back, freshmen tried to regain a standing position without the help of their hands. Others were initiated by passing oranges from neck to neck. This feat proved to be quite difficult, and in some cases, rather embarrassing. New students enjoyed lapping up bowls of salted milk. Altogether, the Mixer seemed to be a success, and everyone enjoyed it.

Senior Girls "Swing Into Spring" At The

Senior home ec. girls "Swing into Spring" this year with the garments they made in class under the guidance of their teacher, Mrs. Richendrfer. The girls modeled their cool, spring outfits to background music played by Gladys Meenk and to the narration of Marj Roosma and Janet Kaemingk, at the annual Mother's Tea. A Toast to the Mothers and Daughters, a vocal and accor-dian solo, and a vocal duet highlighted the program. The refreshments for the tea were prepared by the freshman home economics class.

Annual Mother's Tea

Assemblies

An important part in the school activities at Lynden Christian High School are assemblies. Some assemblies are strictly for fun, while others are for serious thought. One of the usual assemblies held each year is the one at Christmas time. At this assembly, the students saw a film on the life of Christ. Earlier in the year a basketball assembly was held, with each class giving a skit, and the best skit winning an award. These skits helped to promote more enthusiasm at Pep Rallies. The Speech Class at L.C.H.S. also put on a melodrama in which the students of the class took part. More recently was the Election Day Assembly. This assembly, although it brought much laughter, was an important one for everyone. At this assembly, the new A.S.B. officers were chosen.

"Lyncs Fanfare" was the theme of this year's All Sports Banquet which is given in honor of the athletes at LCHS. Balloons, penants, pompoms, and streamers all fit in perfectly to carry out this festive theme. Adding to the fanfare were the girls in colorful evening dresses and the boys in dark suits. After a delicious meal, that time of year to which every athlete, especially seniors, looks with anticipation, finally came. This year the Inspirational Award in football was given to Curt Meenderinck and the Coaches Award to Vern Haveman and Bob Vander Haak. In basketball the Player of the Year Award went to Darryl Roosendaal and the Darigold Sportsmanship Award to Hank Roorda.

Juniors Bid "Hasta La Vista" To Seniors

"An evening in Old Mexico" was the theme chosen by the Juniors for the Junior-Senior Banquet. In the soft glow of candlelight, the room, decorated with paper flowers and streamers, took on a magical, enchanted look. All the work of the weeks before combined to give a banquet that the Juniors could be truly proud of. With Will and Karen chosen as the honored couple. Gerald Baron as master of ceremonies and several special numbers by the girls trio, and a trumpet duet, the evening will be one long remembered. As a last good-by, the Juniors chose a sub theme, "Hasta la Vista", and meant it, Farewell, Friends.

Though the football team won only one game and despite the never-failing rain and mud, Mr. Harndin and the team retained their enthusiasm. The LYNCS came close several times but couldn't quite pull a league victory. What was probably the climax took place in Lynden, where the excited LYNCS came within two points of upsetting the town rivals. They didn't claim numerous victories but the team did display whole-hearted teamwork and genuine sportmanship and really, isn't that just as important?

The frequently forgotten Junior Varsity football squad showed that they deserved more attention. Coached by Mr. Mellema, they attained a 3 - win, 1 - loss record. The main thrust of the Jayvee play is to gain game experience for next year's varsity hopefuls and this season they have the potential of replacing the graduating lettermen.

Seniors Dominate

When it comes to sports, the LYNCS fans probably get most excited about basketball. This year the LYNCS held fourth place throughout most of the season. Near the season's end, the possibility that we might not keep that position arose, but the team showed their determination and ended with a tie for third place. What added to the excitement were the numerous overtimes the team played throughout the season. It won't be easy to forget the night Coach Korthuis and the team defeated the Lions for the first time in league play. Though they lost the two games in the district tournament, a high degree of sportsmanship and school spirit continued to grow to the season's end.

Jayvees

By hard work, Coach De Hoog and the Junior Varsity earned a 12 win-6 loss record. Their potential of scoring well is illustrated by the fact that they averaged 60 pts. per game compared to their opponents' 46 pts. By this hard work they hope to improve so they will be able to replace the departing lettermen.

1968 Lyncs Baseball Teams Wins

The LYNCS baseball boys are the county champs for 1968! This fact proves they were dedicated, hard workers. Probably the most exciting game was the last one in which the two teams tied for the championship were playing for the title. The LYNCS beat the Lions in that game in the bottom of the last inning. Although Coach Mellema will miss the five seniors next year, he can look forward to coaching many other fine ball clubs in the future.

Running: J. Kok, J. VanderVeen, L. Maas, H. Pelleboer, G. Moorlag, R. Vander Griend, D. Kingma, T. Negen, J. Som.

This year the Cross-Country team was mostly on its own. Though Mr. Korthuis and Mr. Blankers helped occasionally, the team didn't have a regular coach. Despite this fact and despite the fact that it was such a young team, they did very well. They placed fourth in district and came very close to taking home the third place trophy.

The most outstanding runner of the squad was Ron Vander Griend, the team's only senior. He made a new LYNCS record at 9:59, and he also broke the Ferndale and Sedro Wooley cross-country course records. He placed third in district and twentieth in state.

Though the team will miss Ron, it has demonstrated its strong potential for the years to come.

Cross-Country

Coaches: Mr. Korthuis, Mr. Blankers.

Varsity Track Team

This was a year of rebuilding for the track team. Most of last year's excellent athletes were gone and replacing them was a small, young, and inexperienced squad. As the season progressed, most of the individuals showed definite improvement.

Coach: Mr. Ypma

Mr. De Hoog did an excellent job of coaching the junior high football team who became co-champion in the county with a 4 - win, 1 - loss record. These athletes promise to produce a bright future for LYNCS football.

Coach Mellema and the Freshmen basketball team had a very successful season this year. They attained first place in the county with a 10 win-1 loss record. Their year was highlighted by their trip to Seattle where they watched the Seattle Sonics. Their experience this year is very valuable for years to come.

Due to the loss of the freshmen team picture, they will be represented by action pictures only. The members of the team were: B. Brink, D. Haan, W. Kaemingk, A. Berendsen, D. Gibson, M. Heutink, K. Timmer, K. De Hoog, G. Byma, R. De Witt, D. Ter Wisscha.

Second Place In County

In any baseball team, the pitcher is the most important player. This year the freshmen had a fine pitcher as well as a good team to back him up. Coached by Mr. Harnden, they won most of their ballgames and went into the last game being tied for first place in the county; however, in that game they lost to the Lions, allowing them to take first place and settling for second place.

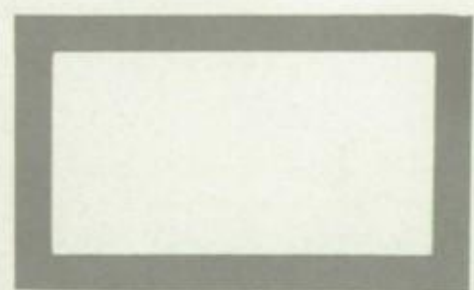

Coach: Mr. Blankers

This has been a good year for Coach Blankers and the Junior High Track Team. Their hard work and determination proved to be worthwhile. These boys broke twelve records this year, and for the first time, the athletes in Class A division took first place in the sub-county tournament. Besides this, about fourteen of them went to the county tournament and three went on to district.

a time to conclude. . .

SENIORS

For the seniors the year is a time for ending and a time for a new beginning when they must re-evaluate time—God's gift, man's responsibility—as it relates to their future years.

At 7:45 a.m., May 1, 85 seniors loaded two buses to set out on their annual Trip Day. They traveled to Newhalem, where they toured Gorge Dam and the surrounding rock gardens. After a delicious dinner at the Gorge Inn they were taken by boat to Ross Dam, which they also toured. Returning to the buses, the seniors traveled to Seattle Civic Center to have their supper at the Food Circus. That evening they enjoyed the opening performance of the Ice Follies in the Seattle Colloseum. It was a wonderful way to climax their senior year.

Trip Day

Masquerade Party

"Ouch!" Another Senior gingerly picks himself up from the floor only to fall again. The scene of these accidents was the Birch Bay Roller Rink. Here the seniors, masqueraded as clowns, sailors, jailbirds, and many more, gathered for the long awaited Senior Masquerade Party. After the skating party they all traveled to Shakey's in Bellingham for more fun and refreshments. For all Seniors it was a night to remember.

Baccalaureate Service

Baccalaureate services were again held in Bethel church. Rev. Bernard Byma challenged and inspired the senior as he spoke on their theme—"He's Everything to Me." Special music was a duet by Alice De Jong and Janice Doesburg. Through this service the Seniors were reminded to keep Christ in the center of their future activities, so that He would remain everything to them.

The night of graduation brought back many happy memories to the seniors, many who had spent four years at LCHS. Janet Kaemingk, the class speaker, expressed adequately the feelings of the senior class as they looked back on these memories and also as they looked forward to the challenging future. Gerry Roseboom led the class as in unison they expressed their faith and hope in their class song—"He's Everything to Me." As the seniors received their diplomas from Mr. Zylstra, they realized that they were really only beginning the great life that lay ahead of them.

Senior Class

Tonight most of us can look back on twelve years of Christian schooling, on a life spent in a Christian home and a life in which our Church played a major part in our training.

As small children we were taught that the beauty in nature was created by God, we celebrated Christmas as the birth of God's Son, and we were taught to believe that Jesus died for our sins.

But it is necessary for that faith we had as children to grow into a living faith and a personal commitment to God. It is at that point in our lives that we can see these facts which we've been taught in a totally new light. Then we can appreciate our blessing of Christian training. Having a personal faith we not only proclaim our theme but we live it every moment of our lives.

Dear
Sandy,
Seniors at last!
Don't that word "senior"
sound great this year?
I have enjoyed being one of your many friends. Remember the time we went tripling? - that was some show! Remember being in party at the Bay? Remember Monday nights when I got spotted Drill Team - those 15 mph in and 10 mph zone when you always fun. Remember that left turn? - I at the Bay doing home? Remember you & I went to Claine had to court for making out to get us! Remember had to go to court for making out to get us! Remember tell you those policemen were out to get us! Remember that Saturday met Rick & Roger - we had a great summ
the Bay and the party Alene had for Claine & Lois noon. Remember running out side in the dark when we went to beer. Remember one Sunday after and that I went to the Bay really going to you? This year is really special to be a year to remember, special to hours! Well, Sandy I want to wish you the best of luck in the coming year. You're really a girl worth know ing because you're always good to everyone. Love
Jayne

Dear Sandy:
 I guess that I might like as well begin like everyone else. Doesn't it seem great to be a Senior? Our school years have really gone fast, haven't they? We really got to know each other pretty good over the last few years - right? Remember when we would have to walk after school to driver's education and drive for an hour? Remember how sacred we were? Remember the fun we had in Mr. Stegink's study hall in our sophomore year with Janice Zylstra?
 Remember when we used to ride around after catechism and ball games? Remember the crushes we had on boys last year? Remember how we struggled through Geometry and Chemistry? I was so dumb! I am sure that you will have fun this year. Don't be so hard on Buzz. You are a great kid, Sandy, and a lot of fun to have around. Lots of luck in the future.
 a true friend,
 Carmen

Dear Sandy:

Well, we've almost gone through 12 years of school and most of those years we've been good friends. I remember when Mr. Baume put up in front for talking. I should have been put up there with you. When there were the times we played tennis and met some boys. He used to ride horses together, too. In the 7th grade you would come over and we would do our math together. Now we do our Ref. Doc. together. He kinda lost contact with each other during our Sophomore year but all that changed with Joe and Burg. I'll never forget the night you met Burg. When I phoned, you were in your pajamas and you had rollers in your hair! After that, though, everything was all right. Remember how nervous we were that first day, especially when we went to Burg's house? Remember that night when you + I went to Ballingham and we met Jim + Burg and then we went out to the Hammeigan Road to watch Jim race Dick Blake? I remember when we went to town to get them graduation presents. Of course we had so much fun all those Saturdays. Remember how nervous we were when they followed us in the Farmers Parade? I hope we never have to march in a parade again. I, too, will never forget our little talks after church and the divisions we made. When there was that awful Sunday night, it was really torture, wasn't it? I sure hope we keep going double to church on Sunday nights because that is so neat. Oh, I mustn't forget his last Friday night when we saw the Reicals, why were we so groovy, but I didn't like the spirits, they were so far out for me. I'm so glad that you and Joe could go to California with us. I'm also glad that you had a good time. When I talk to the 3 of us had were really great! You're always gone on trips with us and we always got along so good and I know that we always will. He will probably be going separate ways after next summer but we can still keep in touch. I hope you find out what you want to do in life but whatever you decide to do, I know you'll succeed in it. Sandy, be sure to go out with other guys. Who may sound like 'monance now but it isn't. I wish you lots of luck.

Love,
Blaine
